NOTICES.

The "Herald's" Page for Women is published on Wednesdays.

Contributions, from women preferred, will be considered. They should not exceed half a column in length.

Communications should be addressed to The Editor, "A Page for Women," "Herald" office.

ALICE RAWSON SCHOOL FOR MOTHERS.

An unpretentious little house in Bourke-street, the Alice Rawson School for Mothers is busily occupied carrying on a work, the expense of which cannot yet be calculated.

Communications should be addressed to The Editor, "A Page for Women," "Herald" office.

THE CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

Last week a number of critical women were invited to sample a test dinner cooked by the trainees of the cooking school at the Technical College. The dinner was arranged and prepared in every detail by the six students who, having finished two years' training at the college, are now ready to go forth to teach others in the art and carry on their teaching power so dear to their practical performance the State will certain be enriched by the addition of six line teachers, for the dinner was excellent in every detail.

The table was prettily decorated with golden lilies and brown ferns, and from the "bonne bouche oysters" to the coffee every course was well cooked and flavoured. Three of the trainees cooked the meal, while the other three waited, and everything went without a hitch.

It was a comforting thought to those who enjoyed the meal that these excellent cooks were going forth into the country to teach the art and bring light into dark places. "What can we do?" asked one of the mothers of the neighbourhood could tell all about it. For in the front room of that little house many mothers have received help and advice which has been the means of saving the baby life and the mothers' health. And women come from the same place, and need so much to both mother and child. The front room is as simple as a room could be; bare white boards, a plain deal table, a row of wooden chairs round the table, all the furniture; but on certain days there will be all the furniture, and when certain days are over, there will be none left.

Teachers and people interested in education often find great difficulty in procuring books bearing on educational matters. Sometimes

A STUDENT'S DINNER.

"I'll put a girdle round about the earth in forty minutes"—"Summer Night's Dream."

The Children's Hospital should benefit substantially by the big concert which is being arranged by Miss Alice Rawson and Mrs. Edith Fraser, to take place on October 13. The chief promoters are being helped by a large and representative committee, which is working indefatigably for the success of the performance. A public meeting will be held in the vestibule of the Town Hall to-morrow afternoon, when a short musical programme, including a solo by Miss Alice Rawson, 2.30 p.m., Mrs. Henry Dunbar and Mrs. G. Mackinnon will speak at the hospital. But the good work done by this institution is so well and widely known that there should be little need to do more than remind people of the fact that no work, however good, need perform itself, and help is always needed to keep it going.

Children have not been forgotten in the arrangements for the fete to be held at Greenoaks, Darling Point, on Friday in aid of the Bush Book Club. In addition to a naval display, which all consider a success, there will be a band, a merry-go-round, a chute, games, food, dances, and a snowball. The afternoon hours are from 2.30 to 6, and children and schools will be admitted at half-prices.

Teachers and people interested in education often find great difficulty in procuring books bearing on educational matters. Sometimes the answer lies chiefly in Miss Monroe's "How to Teach," and the like, but there is no accommodation for the numbers who would learn. Miss Monroe is the director of the cooking school, and has been doing excellent work in the kitchen, and a merry-go-round, a chute, games, food, dances, and a snowball. The afternoon hours are from 2.30 to 6, and children and schools will be admitted at half-prices.

We did not get much money, but the response to our appeal for books was generous, and we have now over 4000 books and a great quantity of magazines. For the benefit have been established in the various towns, and the services of honorary workers, which consists of a librarian, censors, members, members, coverers, binders, packers, and decorators.

Miss Monroe has lent us a room at 182 Liverpool-street, and we have a small library, and the books have been greatly hampered by lack of space. But though she makes the most of every possible chance the number trained is still small, and she can only hope to meet the demand, which is always growing.

It is not far from lack of students, for and anyone who has ever eaten a meal cooked by the skill of the Technical College must be able to understand that there is nothing to do more than remind people of the fact that no work, however good, need perform itself, and help is always needed to keep it going.

Children have not been forgotten in the arrangements for the fete to be held at Greenoaks, Darling Point, on Friday in aid of the Bush Book Club. In addition to a naval display, which all consider a success, there will be a band, a merry-go-round, a chute, games, food, dances, and a snowball. The afternoon hours are from 2.30 to 6, and children and schools will be admitted at half-prices.

Teachers and people interested in education often find great difficulty in procuring books bearing on educational matters. Sometimes the answer lies chiefly in Miss Monroe's "How to Teach," and the like, but there is no accommodation for the numbers who would learn. Miss Monroe is the director of the cooking school, and has been doing excellent work in the kitchen, and a merry-go-round, a chute, games, food, dances, and a snowball. The afternoon hours are from 2.30 to 6, and children and schools will be admitted at half-prices.

We did not get much money, but the response to our appeal for books was generous, and we have now over 4000 books and a great quantity of magazines. For the benefit have been established in the various towns, and the services of honorary workers, which consists of a librarian, censors, members, members, coverers, binders, packers, and decorators.

Miss Monroe has lent us a room at 182 Liverpool-street, and we have a small library, and the books have been greatly hampered by lack of space. But though she makes the most of every possible chance the number trained is still small, and she can only hope to meet the demand, which is always growing.

It is not far from lack of students, for and anyone who has ever eaten a meal cooked by the skill of the Technical College must be able to understand that there is nothing to do more than remind people of the fact that no work, however good,

need perform itself, and help is always needed to keep it going.

TRADE-UNION CONGRESS.

WANT OF DISCIPLINE.

DENOUNCED BY THE PRESIDENT.

LONDON, Sept. 13.

The Trade Union Congress opened its proceedings at Sheffield yesterday.

Mr. James Haslam, M.P., the president of the congress, in his opening address, emphasised the need for loyalty and discipline in the part of all concerned, and the maintenance of the vital principle underlying the trade-union movement, i.e. collective bargaining.

Doubtless Mr. Haslam continued, debts occurred in the settlement of some minor difficulties, but the breaking of agreements by individual or sectional action was unjustifiable. They ought to effect a settlement of disputes by means of proper rules and regulations.

ANOTHER SOCIETY'S EMPHASIS.

DISINTEGRATING ELEMENTS.

The executive council of the Steam Engine-makers' Society, in a report to members, referring to the question of recognising the authority of the executive committee, declares, "If such disintegrating elements enter into our ranks we shall deal with them with a plague. A trade union without executive authority or discipline must tumble to the ground."

CLOSING COTTON MILLS.

PROPOSED BY THE EMPLOYERS.

TRIVIAL CAUSE OF STRIKE.

LONDON, Sept. 12.

The dispute in the cotton trade in Lancashire, precipitated by the Cardroom Amalgamation, arose through an employee at Farn Mill, Oldham, named Howe, a grinner, refusing to pick off a few cotton seeds which were adhering to the machinery.

The employer instructed him to disobey, because it was not a grinner's work.

Sept. 13.

The Cardroom Amalgamation is postponing consideration of the ultimatum given them by the employers to agree to arbitration or face a lockout.

The Cotton Spinners' Federation will meet on Monday. Many employers favour a stoppage of work in view of the dearness of material and the unremunerative prices of yarn.

There is a general impression at the Trade Union Congress at Sheffield that Mr. Sydney Buxton, the President of the Board of Trade, will be asked to assist in settling the dispute.

(The bad times upon which the cotton industry is laden are graphically depicted in the annual report of the Federation of Master Cotton Spinners' Associations, to be presented at the annual meeting, to be held on Monday, Oct. 1. The executive committee of the federation, which controls almost entirely the cotton spinning industry of Lancashire, says: "Yarn buyers have hitherto been able to make the returns which assistance, but they are at last realising that the new land taxes have reduced the value of land exempt from the land provisions of the Finance Bill; have found that their profits are less than the cost of production, and will therefore be compelled to sell at a loss." There is an instance of the kind of thing that is happening all over England. The agent of a small property in Salford, consisting of 16 cottages, has put up for sale 10 cottages for £1,000 each, and has had to wait for 18 forms to fill up, each containing about 50 questions. The total value of the cottages is £1,000, so that the agent can only get £1,000 for the 10 cottages.)

Meanwhile the delegates of the various governments will have brought their methods of analysis up to the international standard. Hence foods will be subjected to an analysis which must conform to that standard.

THE CANADIAN RIFLES.

INSPECTED BY THE KING.

EXAMPLE TO OTHER DOMINIONS.

LONDON, Sept. 13.

The King yesterday inspected a detachment of the Queen's Own Canadian Rifles, who journeyed from Aldershot to Balmoral.

His Majesty said that he trusted that their good example in participating in manoeuvres in the motherland would be followed by many regiments of other Dominions in the future.

REFERENCE TO ARBITRATION.

THE VOTES TAKEN BY THE MEN OF THE GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY ON THE DISPUTE WITH THE COMPANY AS TO THE INCIDENCE of meal-time in the working day of ten hours is interpreted as signifying that the executive committee should be referred to Lord MacDonnell, who, as arbitrator, awarded the ten hours' working day.

THE FRENCH LABOUR METHODS.

UNION VOTES A MURDER.

LONDON, Sept. 12.

The dockers' union at Havre voted for the death of the non-unions.
The Paris "Temps" demands condign punishment for a deliberate and ferocious murder.

THE TRADE UNION'S DEMAND.

LEGALISING POLITICAL LEVIES.

LONDON, Sept. 13.

Mr. Haslam, M.P., in his presidential address to the Trade Union Congress at Sheffield, referred to the Osborne judgment as hindering the work of trade unions. He said that they had always believed that one of the objects of trade unions was to elect trade unionists to the House of Commons, and their funds had accordingly been applied to that purpose.
Nothing short, Mr. Haslam affirmed, of the reinstatement of trade unions in the position which they had held up to the time of the Osborne judgment would be accepted.

THE OSBORNE JUDGMENT.

AN UNFAIRLY MEETING.

LONDON, Sept. 13.

The dockers' union at Havre voted for the death of the non-unions.
The Paris "Temps" demands condign punishment for a deliberate and ferocious murder.

THE PRESS CONFERENCE.

CHEAPNESS OF COMMUNICATION.

A FACTOR IN IMPERIAL UNITY.

LONDON, Sept. 13.

The civic welcome was given to the delegates attending the conference of the Institute of Journalists at the Guildhall yesterday. There was a large attendance.
The Hon. Harry Lawson, the retiring president, in addressing the conference, dwelt upon its imperial scope, which tended to unity throughout the Empire. Cheapness of communication was necessary to that end, and he emphasised the growing desire for a direct British cable across the Atlantic. The Post Office, he said, must accept the demand.

MR. WADE'S TOUR.

AN UNRULY MEETING.

LONDON, Sept. 13.

Mr. Haslam, M.P., in his presidential address to the Trade Union Congress at Sheffield, referred to the Osborne judgment as hindering the work of trade unions. PROGRESS SINCE FEDERATION.

There is no denying the fact that Australia has made much progress since Federation.

This advance has been made in all directions. In population, the progress has been scarcely as rapid as would be expected. Otherwise there has been but little retrogression alongside much real progress. This can clearly be gathered from the figures that follow:

Population:—In 1901, 4,000,000; in 1910, 4,500,000.

Area:—In 1901, 2,700,000 square miles; in 1910, 2,800,000.

Population per square mile:—In 1901, 14.8; in 1910, 16.4.

Population per square mile, with less than 100,000:—In 1901, 14.8; in 1910, 16.4.

Population per square mile, with less than 10,000:—In 1901, 14.8; in 1910, 16.4.

Population per square mile, with less than 1,000:—In 1901, 14.8; in 1910, 16.4.

Population per square mile, with less than 100:—In 1901, 14.8; in 1910, 16.4.

Population per square mile, with less than 10:—In 1901, 14.8; in 1910, 16.4.

SPORTING.

THE TURF.

A pony and galloper race meeting takes place this afternoon at Rosebery, under the control of the Associated Clubs. The track is excellent going, and a number of well-known performers are engaged in the competitive trials at the general and ordinary trials will be in vogue, and the first race is timed to start at 2.15 p.m.

The annual re-union of the Newcastle Jockey Club will be held on the Broadmeadow course this afternoon, and metropolitan visitors to the city will be in ample time for the races, which will commence from the Central Railway Station at 2.15 p.m. A special train service will convey visitors between the local railway station and the racecourse.

In connection with the Roselhill Spring Meeting on Saturday the secretary, Mr. G. W. S. Rowley, announced that ladies' tickets to the grand stand and enclosure will be available at 5s. The proceeds from the sale of ladies' tickets will be devoted to the rafid fund, and no competition.

The board of management of the Associated Racing Clubs yesterday issued jockeys' permits to D. Callinan, P. H. Kuhn, A. Stoye, J. C. Walker, and a permit to ride to M. Cusack.

Final acceptances for the Roselhill Guineas trials due at 4 p.m. tomorrow, and all horses remain in after that hour in the liability for the full stake.

Kasuga was yesterday struck out of the Picton and Sonoma Meeting in connection with the St. Ives Meeting.

The following race meetings have been granted registration by the A.C.C.—Kyogle Club (Aug. 26); Philip Amateur Turf Club (November 5 and 10); Dubbo Amateur Nursery Race Club (October 26).

The scratchings yesterday in connection with the St. Ives Meeting were: Harnattian out of the Roswell Guineas, and Geran out of the Hurdc Race.

Master Soul gave the Randwick regulars a taste of his racing ability over several lengths in the first race, and when keeping well out on the track, he ran the distance well in im 32s. The position holder in this track made no reference to the time, but the two others ticked. Though they all have to run the measured distance, the corners are so shaped that have a tendency to go round the outside of the posts, and they also tend to do a keep-out. Master Soul selected a mid course, and his performance was generally admired by the critics.

Mr. S. Green's Victorian pair, Comedy King and Santa, were out for easy work at Randwick yesterday morning. Both looked healthy and spry, and when running well out on the track, he ran the distance well in im 32s.

In England, is a fine type of a thoroughbred, and bears an excellent reputation down south, though his first run this season resulted in a distinct disappointment, due to the backwardness of his condition, for appearance at present point to him being yet in want of a few searching starts. Santos is one of the most popular and much sought after Sydney performers. Ay Motor, by Ay Lady die. He is said to be a speedy customer, and may be reckoned with in the short sprints.

Judging by present appearances, and the track records, it may safely be said that there is very little chance to be had of two or three wins in the first race in preparation for the Breeders' Plate, but another fortnight may also account for many changes.

Yesterday morning we looked lighter and brighter, and the howling gale, a mile without the least trouble—apparently only going three-quarters of a mile, it is in the first. Picton Poole was quite gay, but he moved along blithely, though only asked to do half-work on the track, and was a real winner.

A gallop too many is not always a good idea, as an asseverated horse. Yesterday morning Queen May, Litchfield, Popinjay, Lucky Moon, Munbury, Reservoir, Popinjay, and Bel Sorrel all sprinted smartly, and are nice clean gall lopes. The racing at Safford has most certainly an improving effect, and is probably the best horses at Randwick. Prince Poole and Mrs. Mortimer, the last-named seemed greatly benefited by her first dash in public this season.
